Warborn Reveal Trailer

First Trailer For Upcoming Mecha Strategy Game “Warborn”

BRISTOL, ENGLAND, 20th November, 2018 - Raredrop Games has launched a reveal trailer showcasing gameplay from their upcoming turn-based strategy game “Warborn” which is coming to PC and console in 2019.

Warborn is about commanding a strike force of giant mecha in strategic battles, like something out of a 90s anime series. Players take turns issuing commands to their units, moving them around the map and battling opposing mecha in dramatic animated battle sequences.

Play through the single player campaign or online multiplayer matches as one of four unique commander characters. Players can take advantage of each commander’s individual play style, utilising skills and deploying their chosen commander’s powerful personal mecha to the battlefield to help turn the tide.
